Producing employable graduates' is a part of the process of education. It encompasses the full educational spectrum of values from imparting knowledge and understanding to develop the skills and attributes. Employability skills are not as narrowly prescribed and defined as in the past and generally, they are more 'service oriented', making information and social skills increasingly important. Employability depends on the knowledge, skills and attitude of the youth. The students have to apply the knowledge/skills to derive benefit and get the employment. The methods which provide the opportunities for application of knowledge or practice include: Case study, Projects, Workshops, Assignments and practical skills. To ensure the students of higher education to get connected to employment, they must aware of various employment opportunities, have high aspirations, skills necessary to manage their careers, appropriate work experience, the ability to make effective applications for employment, Transferable Skills such as Writing Skills, IT Skills, Personal Development, Presentation Skills, Team Work, Research Skills, Multiple skills etc..

Aims and objective of Department of Political Science

1. The Political Science stream provides graduates with the skills needed to pursue an advanced area and increase their earning potential & creates awareness among young minds and educates them about their right, duties, benefits and laws.
2. The students in Political Science Bachelor's program also develop a strong understanding of local and global politics, diplomacy, Law and Political theories & strives to make young girls aware about their constitutional legal rights & duties.
3. The students also developed in-depth knowledge of current domestic and international political theories, policies processes and law.
4. Students may analyze the fundamental problems in human society such as world peace, economic crisis, globalization, international trade and more.
